Assessment in Learning Jan 27 2020 This book puts lights on the detailed knowledge of assessment from a constructivist perspective. It should be understood by teachers that it is not 'assessment of learning' but 'assessment for learning'.

Assessment needs to be seen as a part of our education system, rather than a separate part. All the units of this book have been written keeping the centre idea of assessment and learning in every aspect of teacher and students. The book presented highlights 'Assessment for Learning', constructivism and assessment in the first unit, levels and dimensions of learning in the learning in the second unit, different types of assessment techniques in the third unit, assessment tools, portfolios, feedback in the fourth unit and includes feedback, progress record in fifth unit.

Development in South Asia Mar 09 2021 Assessment of student learning outcomes (ASLO) is one of the key activities in teaching and learning. It serves as the source of information in determining the quality of education at the classroom and national levels. Results from any assessment have an influence on decision making, on policy development related to improving individual student achievement, and to ensure the equity and quality of an education system. ASLO provides teachers and school heads with information for making decisions regarding a students' progress. The information allows teachers and school heads to understand a students' performance better. This report reviews ASLO in three South Asian countries---Bangladesh, Nepal, and Sri Lanka---with a focus on public examinations, national assessment, school-based assessment, and classroom assessment practiced in these countries.
